

SERENO GROUP

HOME SELLER'S GUIDE

THE SERENO STORY

Sereno Group is particularly proud to be the largest independently owned brokerage in the Silicon Valley. Our unique model of local ownership, local leadership, local management and local legal counsel allows us to powerfully impact our clients and the communities we serve.

Our hyperlocal focus on the Silicon Valley and Santa Cruz coastal communities where we live, work and contribute creates unparalleled expertise and a competitive advantage that we use to benefit each and every one of our clients.

It is no small wonder that the communities of Silicon Valley are highly desirable locations to settle, plant roots and create a home. This hive of creative energy and world-changing business pursuits, set amidst the beauty of rolling hills and forests with easy access to everything the Bay Area has to offer, is a lifestyle like no other.

Likewise, the Santa Cruz Coastal communities have become highly coveted neighborhoods to live, work, and play. Ranked as one of the top 100 best places to live, Santa Cruz offers the rare and cherished opportunity to surf on world-class waves in the morning, head to work for the day, and then hike through ancient redwood forests in the late afternoon.

Alongside the desirability of the areas we serve are very unique market conditions that require a highly skilled professional with hyperlocal pricing expertise, boots on the ground experience, marketing and negotiating finesse.

In the hands of your Sereno Group agent, you have a trusted guide to advise your every move through the intricacies of selling your home and negotiating a deal that best serves your ultimate goals.

We hope this guide will serve to empower you as you navigate the process of selling your home with real estate intelligence, industry jargon, and useful information about every step of the journey.

To make your home selling process easier, we recommend thoughtful consideration of these points before you embark on the journey.

Why are you selling your home? Downsizing, Upsizing, Retiring or Job Related?

What is your ideal timeframe? Are you in a position to be flexible?

Have you discussed the financial and tax repercussions of a potential sale with your accountant and/or tax advisor?

Will your home need minor or major repairs to get it into the best shape for a sale?

Do you plan on staging your home?

Are you prepared to move out of the home during the sales process, or do you want to buy before you sell?

PRICING YOUR HOME: INTRINSIC FACTORS

Intrinsic house factors that affect value:

Overpricing can negatively impact the sale of your home. A well-priced home can create interest, generate competitive offers and lead to a timely sale at the highest possible price.

In addition to a thorough Comparative Market Analysis, your Sereno Group agent has the added benefit of company-wide collaboration and unparalleled industry expertise for a well-rounded pricing strategy.

Many people like to think that pricing can be narrowed down to Price Per Square Foot but what exactly does that mean to you as a Seller? In truth, there are many variables that affect the value of your home.

Square Footage

Privacy

Lot Size and Usability

Outdoor Amenities and Landscaping

Flow and Floor Plan

Well Appointed Kitchen and Bathrooms

Location and Neighborhood: Proximity to schools, transportation, freeways, local shops, dining and downtown

PRICING YOUR HOME: EXTRINSIC FACTORS

Extrinsic factors that affect value:

The Comparative Market Analysis will examine the listings and sales of similar homes in your neighborhood over the last six months. In addition, it is important to consider the Days on Market, compare list-to-sale-price ratios and adjust for variances.

In addition to the property, what is happening in the world has an impact.

Your agent will closely watch the active listings and re-evaluate your pricing alongside the current inventory and shifting market conditions, current industry trends and Federal Reserve monetary policies that affect interest rates.

DISCLOSURES AND INSPECTIONS

Both the Seller and the Listing Agent are required to disclose all known material defects, repairs and alterations made to the home. Disclosures give a Buyer the opportunity to review available information prior to writing an offer.

A home inspection is a visual examination done by a licensed professional. A thorough inspection will examine the interior and exterior structures, systems and components of the structure including the roof, basement or crawlspace, foundation and structure, heating and cooling, plumbing, electrical, fireplace, attic, insulation and ventilation, doors, windows of a residential property.

Examples of things that need to be disclosed and provided to the Buyer:

- » Roof age and warranty paperwork, if applicable.
- » Furnace age and manuals, if applicable.
- » Central Air conditioning age, warranty, and manuals, if applicable.
- » Hot water heater age, warranty, and manuals.
- » Age of any included appliance, manuals, and warranties, if applicable.
- » Dates of any home improvement projects or remodels. This could include the kitchen bathroom(s) window installation, carpet and flooring, and outdoor amenities.
- » Dates and reports on any repairs made to the home.
- » Permits or Certificates of Compliance that apply, which could include decks, sheds, and fencing.
- » Written and verbal estimates of work to be done.
- » Anything that may affect the value or desirability of the property.
- » Title report showing clear title and loan balances.

Why up front inspections are important

We live in a competitive marketplace that requires a highly proactive mindset to sell a property at the most optimal price. If a Buyer is considering multiple homes similar to yours, it is to your advantage to have material facts presented up front so there are no surprises when the time comes for an offer and possible negotiations.

It is important to note that a Buyer may want to do their own inspections for a deeper understanding of the condition of the property. This is a normal practice.

PREPARING YOUR HOME - THE IMPORTANCE OF STAGING, UPGRADES AND REPAIRS

Studies show that making your home as welcoming and neutral as possible creates optimal conditions for a Buyer to “mentally move-in.” The journey of getting your home SOLD begins with the preparation.

While you have the option to leave your home “As-Is”, it has been shown that professional home staging adds considerable value to a prospective property. Your agent can recommend an experienced home stager to assist you in partially, or fully, staging the home.

Here are suggestions for preparing your home to go to market:

CLEAN, DECLUTTER AND DEPERSONALIZE

Consider hiring a professional cleaning service to deep clean every single room.

Declutter all rooms and give unwanted items away. Host an estate sale, sell them on craigslist.org, or give away to consignment. Make three piles: Donate, Toss, and Sell.

Kitchen: Store small appliances; Clean your refrigerator and remove any magnets and artwork; polish granite; clean out cupboards; remove trash cans.

Organize closets and storage spaces.

Empty garage and organize contents.

Vacuum and/or shampoo carpets, or replace if needed. Refinish hardwood floors.

Consider new bedding for all beds.

Deep clean all bathrooms: replace shower curtains; treat mildew and mold.

Remove family photos and potentially offensive items from view.

Replace all light bulbs with appropriate wattage bulbs.

Store money and jewelry in a safe place.

Wash windows.

IMPROVEMENTS AND REPAIRS

Your agent will recommend the highest ROI projects for your home. It is highly recommended that you have a home inspection right away to identify and address problems before the house goes on the market.

Interior

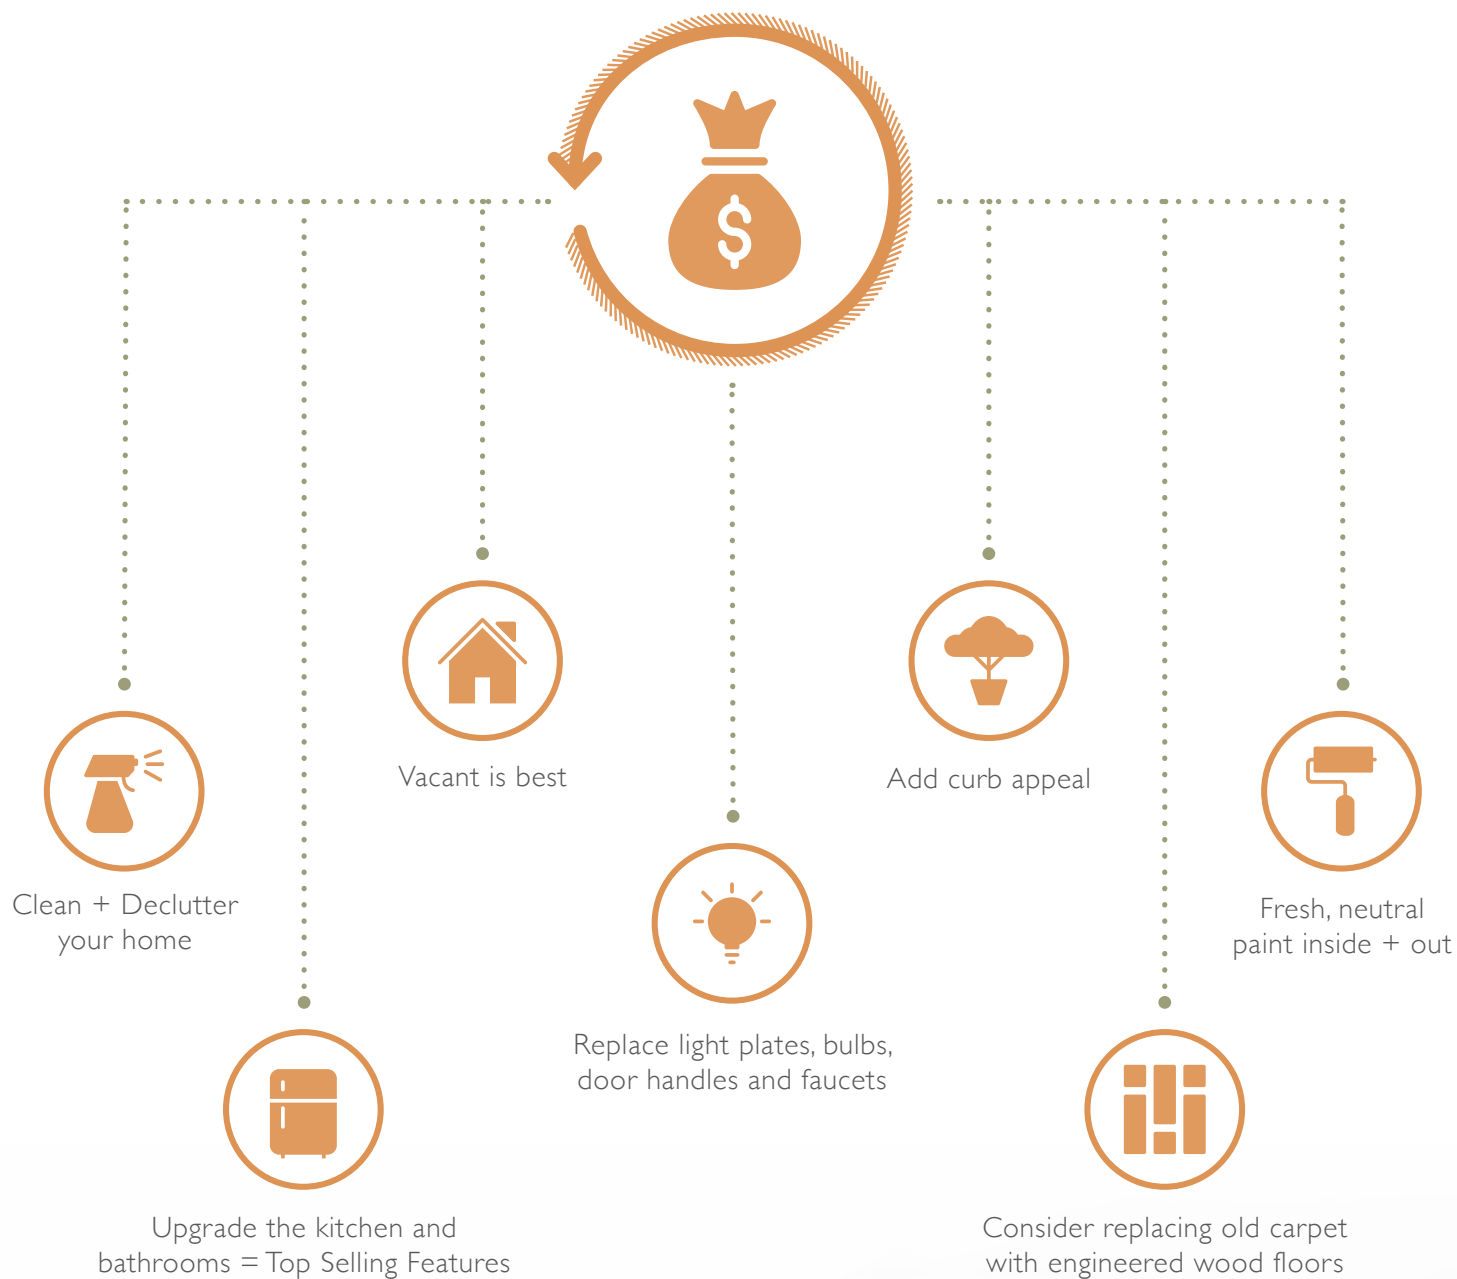

- » Repaint entire interior with a neutral color.
- » Remove any dated or peeling wallpaper.
- » Repair light fixtures and switches.
- » Ensure all windows and doors open, close and lock properly.
- » Repair any leaks in the faucets and toilets.
- » Check that smoke and carbon monoxide detectors, security alarms are in working order.

Exterior

- » Inspect the roof for possible leaks and make necessary repairs.
- » Replace exterior lighting and hardware, when necessary.
- » Weed, mow, rake and water the lawn, if applicable.
- » Remove any tools and store away hoses.
- » Trim bushes and clean out dead tree branches and debris.
- » Power wash the driveway and remove any oil stains.
- » Clean the pool, pond, and fountain, if applicable.
- » Add flowering plants to the front yard.
- » Clean the barbeque grill and any outdoor appliances.
- » Power wash outdoor furniture.
- » Consider replacing house numbers to update the front.

OPEN HOUSE DAY: WHAT TO EXPECT

It is important that your home is clean and welcoming to potential Buyers so they fall in love at first sight.

Here are some suggestions to make the open house as effortless and convenient as possible for you.

- » Put personal items away in a safe place.
- » Keep your home accessible, clean and ready for frequent showings.
- » Allow a lockbox so you are not inconvenienced and agents have easy access.
- » Leave the home during the open house so prospective Buyers feel free to look around and give feedback to the agent.
- » Set a comfortable temperature for the home.
- » Open all blinds and curtains so the light can get in.
- » Open the windows beforehand to eliminate any odors: pet, cigarettes, and any strong food or fragrances.
- » Be sure the lights are in working order.
- » Your agent will share any relevant feedback after the open house.

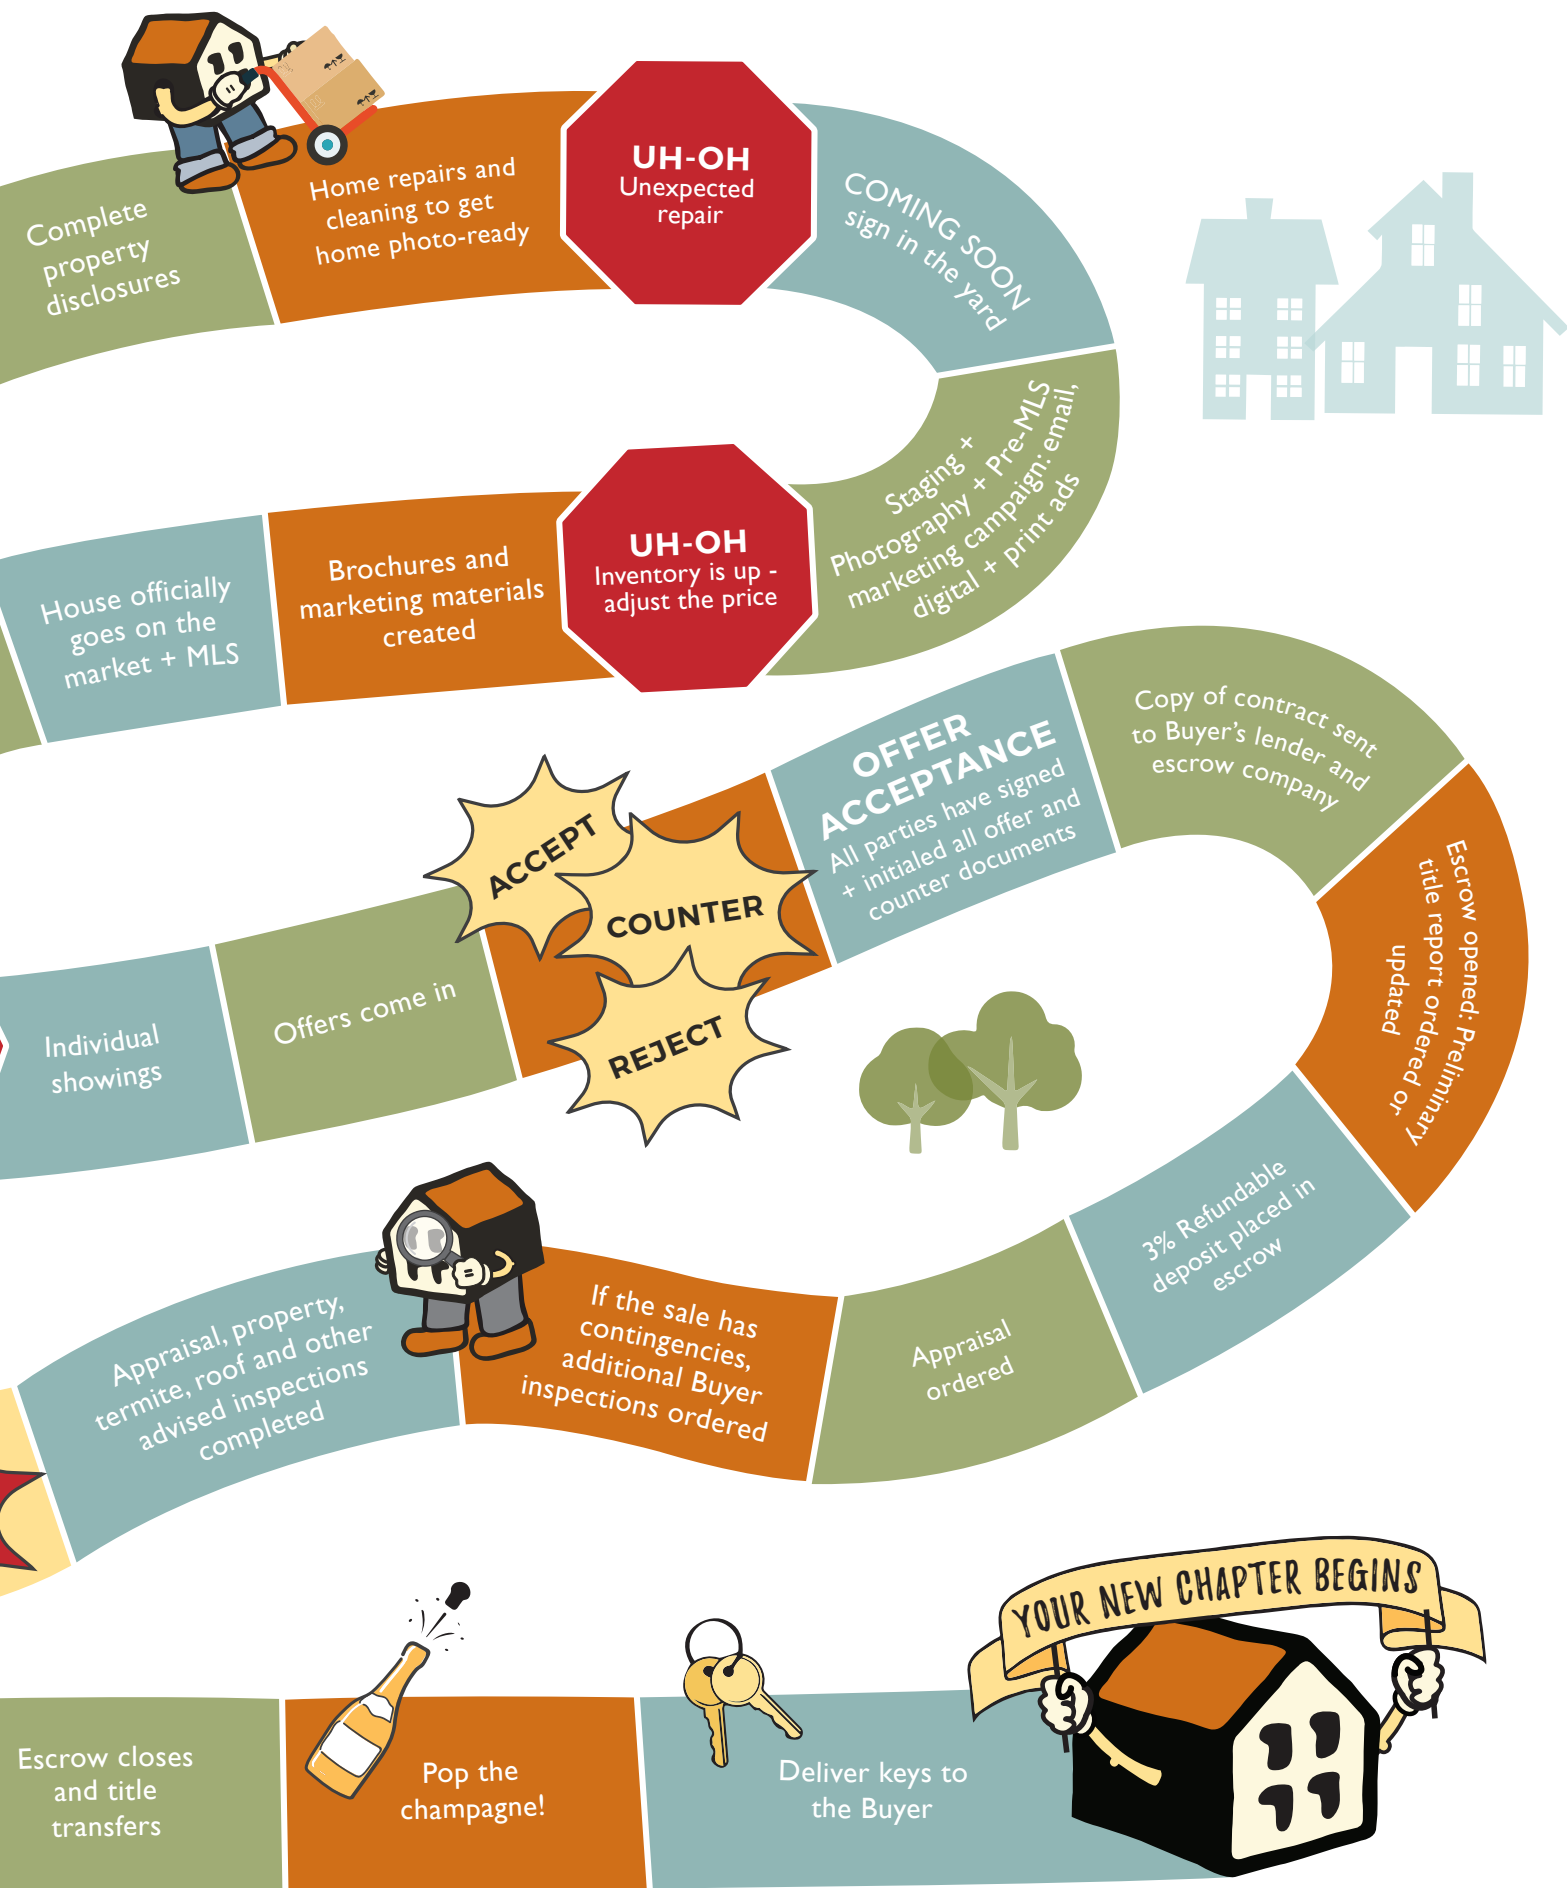

PART TWO

DECISIONS. DECISIONS. DECISIONS.

THE HOME SELLERS FLOWCHART

EVALUATING AND CHOOSING THE BEST OFFER

What constitutes a “good” offer?

An offer to buy depends on many factors, including market conditions, the neighborhood, your needs, the Buyer's needs, and the list price. It is important to consider how the market is responding to the list price and adjust accordingly.

Your agent will provide you with the best information to help you make an informed decision.

What does “As Is” Mean?

Selling a property “As Is” means that you are selling the property in its present condition. The Buyer, however, does have the right to inspect the property and you, as the Seller are legally obligated to disclose any and all known material defects. If an offer contains contingencies, and defects are found that were not previously disclosed, the Buyer has the right to cancel the contract or negotiate specific repairs or cash in lieu of repairs. The California Association of REALTORS® contract is an “As-Is” contract by default, whereas the PRDS purchase contract leaves it open to negotiation.

How long does a Seller have to respond to offers?

It is customary to allow 2-3 days for a seller to notify buyer of their response but this is negotiable.

What is a Counter-Offer?

A Seller has four choices when responding to purchase offers:

1. ACCEPT as written. If you do this, you are “in contract” to sell the property.
2. REJECT the offer.
3. COUNTER an offer with a revised purchase price, length of escrow, contingency period or other terms. Once you receive a counter offer back from a Buyer, you can then ACCEPT, REJECT or COUNTER the counter. This can go on until both parties come to an agreement.
4. Offer a BACK-UP position behind an accepted offer.

What is a Multiple Counter-Offer?

As the Seller, when you receive more than one offer you can counter all offers received, or only a select few. You have the final say on counter-offers.

The highest offer isn't always the best offer.

Not all offers are equal. Factors such as all cash, a request to rent back, home warranty, date of closing and pre-approval letter all affect the value and it is important to discuss how any of these might make one offer more beneficial for you as the Seller.

CONTINGENT OFFERS

A contingency is a clause in a formal real estate contract that defines certain conditions that must be met by either the Buyer or the Seller in order to continue to the next step in the contract. There are many types of contingencies and almost every contract contains them.

They serve to protect the buyer and the seller and if contingencies are not met the transaction could fail to close.

Financing Contingency

If a Buyer enters into the purchase contract contingent upon obtaining written lender commitments for the loan amount, and the lender commitment cannot be obtained, the Buyer has the right to cancel the contract.

Please note, the Buyer's right to exercise the Financing Contingency to cancel is dependent upon them making a timely, good faith application for the actual loan specified.

Inspection/Investigation Contingency

The contract is contingent upon the Buyer's approval of all conditions, disclosures, factors, and circumstances relating to the Property and any other matter, on or off-site, that materially affects the value and/or desirability of the Property including, but not limited to, any and all matters contained in written disclosures and advisories.

The scope of the Property Condition Contingency includes Buyer's approval of the Property Disclosure Documents and Compliance Statements and cost and/or availability of Homeowner's Insurance Coverage (i.e., fire and liability).

Appraisal

This applies if the Purchase Contract is contingent upon the Buyer obtaining an appraisal of the Property at or above the Purchase Price, whether or not they are actually seeking a loan or receiving a lender's written commitment for the financing of the purchase.

In exercising this contingency, the Buyer shall rely upon an appraisal from an independent licensed or certified appraiser.

A Note on Inspections

As the Seller, you are obligated to make the Property reasonably available for all Buyer inspections and investigations. Inspections are advised and the Buyer's failure to fully conduct inspections and investigations is against the advice of their real estate agent.

During the time between Acceptance and Close of Escrow, the Seller is obligated to maintain the Property, including landscaping and all items included in the contract, so they are in the same general condition as at the time of acceptance.

NEGOTIATION STRATEGIES

There's an old saying that states, "Everything is negotiable." This is particularly true in real estate and why having an agent acting on your behalf when it comes time to negotiate the deal is so important.

Sereno Group agents are well versed in the art of negotiation, from doing the necessary research to unearthing the best strategy, and exploring common objectives.

“ Don't bargain yourself down before you get to the table. ”
- CAROL FROHLINGER

Deals can often fall apart over the smallest, and seemingly inconsequential, details. Having the negotiation intelligence of an experienced agent can be an essential element in preventing a deal break down.

It is important to allow all communication regarding the transaction to occur between the Seller's agent and Buyer agent. This ensures that any personal information and/or emotional circumstances that may affect the deal are handled in the most professional manner.

Your agent will take many elements into account as part of the negotiation strategy:

- » What personalities are involved?
- » Who is the decision maker?
- » What are the non-negotiable points?
- » In which areas is it likely that concessions might be possible?
- » What are the true costs of repairs, and can estimates be obtained quickly using our agent network and save time in negotiations?
- » What would be a win-win situation for both sides?
- » What has happened so far that we can use to our advantage?

CAN YOU CANCEL THE CONTRACT?

With most purchase contracts in California, there is a very limited ability for sellers to cancel the contract after acceptance. If there is any doubt that you want to sell the property for the price offered, you should hold off on signing the contract until you are completely sure.

There are certain special situations where the Seller may have contingencies in the contract to find a replacement property, remove existing tenants, complete certain other tasks. In these circumstances, if you as the Seller determine, in good faith, that any circumstances relating to your contract contingencies are unacceptable, then you are permitted to cancel within the prescribed time frames or prior to the expiration of a Notice to Perform by delivery of written Notice of Cancellation to the Buyer. The Buyer is entitled to a refund of deposited monies, less any non-reimbursable fees and costs.

Many times the Buyer will have contingencies in the contract for due diligence, financing, or other requirements. Likewise, if the Buyer determines, in good faith, that any conditions or circumstances relating to their contingencies in the contract are unacceptable, the Buyer is entitled to cancel the contract with the prescribed timeframes. A written Notice of Cancellation to the Seller must be supplied and any deposited funds are subject to refund, less any non-reimbursable fees and costs.

If the buyer has removed all contingencies and is unable to complete the purchase by the close of escrow date specified in the contract, the Seller may, at their discretion, issue a Demand to Close Escrow. If the buyer is unable to close escrow in the timeframes specified, the Seller may unilaterally cancel the contract and attempt to sell to another purchaser. In this case, the buyer's deposit could potentially be collected as liquidated damages for the inability of the buyer to perform depending on the terms of the contract.

All cancellations of real estate contracts should be discussed with an attorney before making a final decision because there are many potential legal complications that could arise out of an improper cancellation.

Please note, if the Seller unreasonably refuses to cooperate in the release of Buyer deposited funds, Seller may be exposed to monetary sanctions and attorney fees per Civil Code Section 1057.3.

WHAT IS ESCROW?

Think of escrow as a neutral zone, like Switzerland. Funds are held by the Escrow company so that both parties have time to comply with the terms of the contract and the transfer of title can be prepared.

Escrow and Title are often used interchangeably in Northern California because they are often handled by the same company.

Escrow is the time period between an offer being accepted and close of escrow. Escrow amounts to a deposit of funds, deed or another instrument by one party for delivery to another party upon completion of a particular condition or event.

How does it work?

Escrow instructions are created, signed and delivered to the escrow officer when the principals to a transaction - the Buyer, the Seller, the lender, and agents - open escrow. The escrow officer is charged with processing the escrow in accordance with the instructions, transferring funds and ensuring all necessary documents are completed and signed. Once this is achieved, the escrow will be closed.

An escrow officer cannot follow instructions from one party in the transaction. All parties must be in agreement.

Typical duties include:

1. Ensuring mutually agreed upon instructions laid out by the principals and parties to the transaction are executed in a timely manner.
2. Paying any bills specified in the instructions.
3. Responding to requests from parties to the transaction.
4. Handling any funds or documents as directed in the instructions.
5. Closing escrow ONLY when all the terms have been satisfied.
6. Providing final accounting details with the Closing or Settlement Statement.

WHY DO YOU NEED ESCROW?

It is important that no funds or property change hands until the instructions in the transaction have been followed and completed. This is for the protection of the Buyer, Seller, lender, and borrower. The escrow holder is obligated to safeguard the funds and documents while in their possession and disperse funds and convey title ONLY when all provisions of the escrow have been satisfied and clear title has been verified.

The escrow officer is a third and entirely neutral party and does not represent the interests of anyone in the transaction.

How long is Escrow?

The length is written into the offer and varies. Typically, escrow is 30-45 days however it can be much shorter in all-cash deals.

Who chooses where Escrow is opened?

The selection of the escrow holder is typically done by agreement between the principals. Laws prohibit the payment of referral fees to escrow officers to ensure unbiased and professional services for both parties.

THE ESCROW FLOWCHART

Several things need to be accomplished during a typical escrow:

A refundable deposit (usually 3% of the purchase price) is placed and held by the escrow company

Buyer's lender prepares loan documents and collects necessary information for approval

Review and sign disclosures (some may be provided by the Buyer's agent)

Any inspections mandated in the offer are performed

Property appraisal completed by the lender.

Title documents are signed and Seller provides pay off information

Contingencies removed to meet deadlines

Final walk through to make certain that the property is in the same condition as it was when the Buyer signed the contract

Escrow closes and the property transfers when all conditions have been satisfied

PACKING AND MOVING

Moving is one of the biggest stressors in life so here are a few tips to get you organized and ready. Please be sure to check in with your agent about resources and assistance to facilitate anything that is happening in conjunction with your move. If you are relocating, your agent can connect you to our relocation team.

- ☒ Do not turn the power off until the house has closed escrow
- ☒ Change magazine and newspaper addresses
- ☒ Cancel Utilities, Trash and Water
- ☒ Cancel home insurance, unless you are doing a rent back. Consult with your agent
- ☒ Change address at usps.com

CHECKLIST FOR THE MOVE

- ☒ Make an inventory of household items that you will be moving
- ☒ Stock up on wrapping paper, boxes, tape, bubble wrap and markers at U-Haul or Home Depot
- ☒ Set the date and schedule your moving company. Your agent can offer a referral
- ☒ Label boxes on the side for easy visibility
- ☒ Make arrangements for pets, plants, and cars

ORGANIZE FOR THE BUYER

- ☒ Garage remotes, keys and locks for the house
- ☒ Appliance manuals, service records and receipts
- ☒ Security codes, if applicable

AFTER THE SALE

At Sereno Group, we believe the sale of your home does not end with the close of escrow. It is our great privilege to assist in the search and purchase of your next home and we hope to continue being of service as you settle in and become a part of a new community.

Other areas your agent might be of assistance:

- » Refinancing
- » Remodeling consultation to maximize your return on investment
- » How to buy investment properties
- » Assisting family members to purchase or sell properties, even outside the area

Thank you for choosing Sereno Group!
